

We're all Budding Pastry Chefs...

To really drive home our cooking week, we had the folks at Doodle Cakes come to visit our Leapfrogs and Tadpoles. They each got to decorate their own chef's hat and a cookie. They looked like watermelons!!! The children had a blast squirting out all of that frosting. We're all pretty sure eating it was the most fun, though.

Watch out Food Network... Here we come!!